SWITCHMEN ON STRIKE

Struggle Begun at Pittsburg For an Increase of Wages.

AFFECTS ALL BUT TWO PENN LINES.

Yards Crowded With Freight and Men Complain of Working Overtime. Pinkerton Detectives on the Ground - No Excitement.

Pittsburg, Nov. 26.—A strike for increased wages of all switchmen belonging to the Switchmen's Union of North America in the Pittsburg district was inaugurated Tuesday. Reports have not been received from all the yards, but the officials of the union say it affects every road entering Pittsburg except the Panhandle and the Pittsburg, Ft. Wayne and Chicago, and all private individuals and corporations. There are between 600 and 1,000 members of the local organization and union officials claim the response was general.

In their demands the switchmen asked for the enforcement of the standard scale of wages. This calls for 27 cents an hour for day foremen and conductors, the night men to receive two cents more per hour, their work being more difficult and dangerous. Under the new schedule the day helpers and brakemen are rated at 25 cents an hour and the night men at 27 cents. The switchmen claim the tonnage handled by them in this city is much greater than that handled by other men in other cities.

Whether the strikers will secure the support of other railroad men cannot be learned at this time. Officials of the union claim other railroad organizations cannot, if they adhere to the principles laid down by their organizations, conscientiously oppose them. It has been stated that W. G. Lee, vice grand master of the Brotherhood of Trainmen, is not in favor of the strike and will not endorse it.

The strike not only affects Pittsburg but McKees Rocks, McKeesport, Braddock and adjacent territory. Its influence will probably be visibly felt by mill owners throughout the state. Following the big steel strike so closely the present trouble is likely to interfere materially with shipments, but railroad officials believe they will be able to cope with the situation and that with the assistance of the brotherhood, traffic will not be materially affected. There has not, however, been a time in the history of the city when traffic in and out of Pittsburg was so heavy. The yards are badly crowded now. Strikers say they are overworked on this account and they are forced to work overtime to keep cars in motion.

J. D. Hughes, second vice grand master of the switchmen's union of North America, states that officials of the Monongahela connecting railroad company signed the new schedule of the switchmen's union and will handle no foreign freight until the dispute is settled. He said further that the Monongahela connecting people were the first to sign the schedule and that it was the expectation that several other roads will soon be in line.

The switchmen's union does not have members in the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago and the Pittsburg, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis yards and business was reported as going on as usual there. The strike was causing some trouble in the yards of the Pittsburg and Western and Allegheny roads, but railway officials said they expected to have traffic moving as usual in a short time. Special trains with detectives arrived from the east and west and the detectives are on duty about the yards. The newcomers are a silent lot and it is impossible to get to them to talk. None of the officials would say anything about the men and it is possible many are switchmen.

At noon officials of the different roads reported no serious inconveniences from the strike and expected soon to have the situation well in hand. The chief defection was at the Baltimore and Ohio yards and a number of Pinkerton detectives were taken to the neighborhood. The movement of trains, however, was not seriously impeded. Some few men went out in the Pennsylvania yards, but the company provided against emergency by bringing 75 men on an early morning train from Altoona. There was no excitement and the announcement was made that there had been no further inconvenience at the yards than had been experienced for some time. On the Pittsburg and Lake Erie one crew of four men struck, but one of them returned. Only one crew of the Allegheny Valley railroad reported, but one crew came back and more are expected to return. On the Pittsburg and Western railroad no crews reported but three crews came back later.

While the mother was away, 2-year-old daughter of George Branson burned to death. Clothing ignited at stove.

ON THE SAME BITE

Union Miners in Kentucky Pitch Tent Determined to Stay.

Madisonville, Ky., Nov. 26.—The camp of the striking union miners at Nortonville is again a reality and authentic reports from there state that there are about 50 armed men in camp and from their appearance and manner it would seem that they have come to stay and resist any attempt on the part of the authorities to again remove them. In a conversation with Thomas Rooney, a member of the official board of the United Mine Workers of America, it was learned that the new camp was established with 50 charter members, and one large tent. Rooney also said there will be more than 250 men in camp with 10 or more tents. He said correspondents had better give the camp a wide berth. There is now no doubt that the union men will make an effort to retain the "home of the strikers" on the same old site, a quarter of a mile south of Nortonville, notwithstanding the mandatory orders of County Judge Hall to the contrary. It is the general opinion that before the campers can again be dispersed more troops than are now on the ground will be necessary to enforce the mandate of the court.

President Wood of the miners called on Judge Hall and demanded the tents and camp property of miners seized by the sheriff Sunday, but the demand was refused. Attachment proceedings will be begun by the miners to recover their property.

The trial of the 21 union prisoners, taken from the camp at Nortonville Sunday was postponed until Wednesday at 9 o'clock. They are all in jail awaiting the examining trial.

J. W. Hancock, who shot William Bradley in a street duel Monday is still in jail awaiting trial.

Vessel Lost at Sea.

New York, Nov. 26.—It is believed a large, square-rigged vessel went down in the recent gale off the Delaware capes. Whether her crew went down with her or was saved may not be known for some time, for if picked up it might be taken across the Atlantic. Upon the survival of the crew probably will depend whether the name of the ship ever will be known. The Red Line steamer Philadelphia from Venezuela and Porto Rico says that Nov. 25 she passed a large spar standing on end with yards and sails attached, about 140 miles east of the Delaware capes. The Philadelphia also reported having passed the side of a vessel about 80 feet long and 20 feet wide off Florida coast Nov. 22.

BOUND AND GAGGED.

Burglars Tie Up Telegraph Operator Before Cracking Safes.

Zanesville, O., Nov. 26.—At New Lexington the night operator of the Cincinnati and Muskingum Valley Railroad company was bound and gagged by masked burglars who dynamited the safes of that company, the Adams Express company and the United States Express company. The burglars secured $200 in money and made their escape. The sheriff of Perry county started on their trail with bloodhounds.

Brutally Beaten By Robbers.

Athens, O., Nov. 26.—John Lemon, a wealthy merchant at Frost, a village near here, was held up in his store by two robbers and brutally beaten to compel him to open his safe. He refused to do so and the robbers left without getting into the safe. Lemon was found insensible. Citizens started on the trail of the robbers.

Porto Rican Laborers.

San Juan de Porto Rico, Nov. 26.—Santiago Iglesias, agent of the American Federation of Labor, has called a mass meeting of the local labor associations for Thursday. This is his first step toward the fulfillment of his mission here, as commissioned by Mr. Gompers to unite the various organizations and ultimately merging them into the American Federation of Labor. The laborers here are divided into sections, according to their trade. Delegates from each section are expected to attend the mass meeting.

Postponed Visit.

Boston, Nov. 26.—A letter was received from the Honorable Artillery company of London, accepting the invitation of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery company of Massachusetts to visit Boston in 1903. A trip to America had been planned by the London company in 1900, but was abandoned on account of the South African war.

Girl Fought With a Razor.

Gallipolis, O., Nov. 26.—John Richardson, while on a spree went to the home of Mrs. Mayes and was beating her, when her daughter, Myrtle, ran to her brother's room, procured a razor and slashed Richardson twice across the throat when he turned upon her. He may die.

Traffic Open on the Isthmus.

Washington, Nov. 26.—A cablegram received by the state department from Consul General Cudger at Panama reports that traffic is moving unimpeded, but gives no other details.

TRUE TO TRADITIONS.

Why Greeks Object to Modern Versions of the Scriptures.

UPHOLD GLORY OF ANCIENT GREECE.

Protestant Propaganda Has Undertaken Hopeless Task—Wars With Turkey Regarded as Perpetuating Crusade Against Persians.

Baltimore, Nov. 26.—Dr. Basil L. Gildersleeve of Johns Hopkins university, the noted Greek scholar who has spent so much time in Greece, in discussing the peculiar situation in that country, said that while a proposition to translate the gospels into modern Greek might seem to Americans to be a small matter to raise a fuss about, it is a serious thing for the Greeks. There have been many translations of the Scriptures into modern Greek, but none of them have been sanctioned by the Greek church, they have been published by Protestants, and though distributed by colporters and missionaries, they are not in any sense "official," or approved by the church of the country, which is the great conservator of Pan-Hellenism. Its followers uphold the glory of ancient Greece and reverence the language with the intensest devotion.

Alluding to the intense reverence for the ancient Greek and the manner in which patriotism of the people is bound up with their church, Professor Gildersleeve remarked that the protestant propaganda in Greece seemed to him hopeless. The people would listen politely to what might be said, but it would make absolutely no impression upon them, they would treat it with quiet contempt. They regard themselves as the heirs of all the glory of the Greece of old and consider the wars with the Turks are only a repetition of the wars of the ancients with Persia. Their devotion to the ancient language displays itself in many ways. The store signs are either in ancient characters or in the French language. The people from the lowest are possessed of the most intense thirst for learning. The professors in the universities are none the less devoted to the Byzantine Greek, but they are wedded to it not because of their patriotic feelings, but because they are dependent upon its study and preservation for a livelihood.

Another fact that explains the intense feeling of the Greeks upon this subject, said Dr. Gildersleeve, is their Oriental blood. Their politics is in a tangle and every little while they have a change in the premiership. If the modern Greek were substituted for the ancient Greek language in the schools and in the church it would mean in all probability that the Roman letters would be used in writing and printing.

Sir Thomas Will Try Again.

London, Nov. 26.—Sir Thomas Lip-ton's announcement at the banquet given in his honor at the Hotel Cecil that he was willing to make another attempt to lift the America's cup should no one else do so, may be taken as tantamount to a definite challenge. His inquiries in yachting circles have elicited the fact that no other British yachtsman has the slightest desire to step into the breach, and it is safe to say that his Shamrock III. will be seen in American waters. However, with the view of securing all legitimate advantage, Sir Thomas will not officially communicate his decision to the New York Yacht club until the eve of the expiration of the time in which to challenge.

Death of an Irish Patriot.

Chicago, Nov. 26.—Martin Hogan, 93, the Irish patriot who had been lying at the county hospital some days, died Tuesday. Hogan together with others interested in the Fenian movement were convicted of treason in 1866 and transported to the English penal colony in Australia. In 1869 Hogan and his companions excepting John Boyle O'Reilly, who had previously escaped, were rescued by a boat which had been fitted out for the purpose by Irish sympathizers.

Shot By His Partner.

Sheridan, Wyo., Nov. 26.—G. Frank McLaughlin, 48, was shot and instantly killed by Lew Hartough, his partner, in a lively stable after a quarrel concerning the management of the business. Hartough is in custody. McLaughlin was superintendent of the Nickel Mining and Milling company, which is operating Clouds Peak, near Dayton, Wyo. He leaves a wife and two daughters, residents of Paterson, N. J.

Computing Scale Combine.

New York, Nov. 26.—It is stated that the National Computing Scale company of Cleveland, with a capital of $275,000, has decided not to enter the consolidation of computing scale manufacturing companies now forming in this city. The total capitalization, including bonds, of the new consolidation is $4,100,000.

River News.

The Pittsburg coal combine expected to send out over 6,000,000 bushels on this week's rise, but the strike of the pilots for higher wages may cut this down somewhat. The independent companies will ship about 4,000,000 bushels.

Bay Bros.' pride, the steamer Greyhound, is still on the track making daily trips between Portsmouth and Huntington. She has not lost a trip since her initial trip June 15, notwithstanding the very low stage of water during the past three months, which forced all other boats to tie up. She has proved the lightest boat on the river, and is understood to be the fastest above Cincinnati.

Mrs. A. E. Zeigler, who has been ill at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mayhugh, near Orangeburg, is much worse, her condition being very critical. Her husband has been summoned from Allegheny City, and a specialist arrived at 10 o'clock this morning from Cincinnati.

The second well of the three being put down by Mr. R. T. Marshall on his lands in Mt. Carmel vicinity, like the first, proved a dry hole, and the machinery has been moved to a location on the head of North Fork where the last well will be put down.

Mr. Paul Ward, of Cynthiana, and Miss Rebecca Ashton, of Covington, will be quietly married in Covington to-day. The bride is the youngest daughter of H. C. Ashton and wife and is quite well known in this city.

WOMAN OVERBOARD.

Swept From Deck of a Steamer and Perished in the Sea.

Philadelphia, Nov. 26.—Captain Hall of the steamship Belgenland from Liverpool reports that when the steamship was abreast Nantucket Sunday morning, Mrs. H. McNeal, wife of Dr. McNeal of Ann Arbor, Mich., was washed overboard and drowned. There was a heavy sea running at the time of the accident. Dr. McNeal, who was on deck watching the storm, went to his stateroom and with his wife came on deck to view a passing steamship. The couple had been standing together only a few minutes when an immense wave swept over the Belgenland, carrying the unfortunate woman overboard. Her body was not seen after it was carried away by the wave.

Dr. and Mrs. McNeal had been traveling in Europe for some months. He left this city at noon for his home at Ann Arbor. Mrs. McNeal was a graduate in medicine of the Michigan university. She was 39 years old.

McKinley Estate.

Canton, O., Nov. 26.—The appraisers have filed their report of the appraisal of the estate of the late President McKinley. It shows that he died possessed of personal goods and chattels to the value of $2,655.89; of securities, bank deposits and life insurance $123,105.15; money $129.15. Total personal estate $125,890.19, of which $60,132.19 was life insurance. The real estate was not appraised, as under the will it goes to Mrs. McKinley for life and at her death to his family. It is believed to be worth $60,000 to $75,000.

Accused of Arson.

New York, Nov. 26.—Abraham Pleser, charged with having set fire to a Greenwich street tenement house in which 62 persons were asleep was arrested and booked for arson. Pleser was one of the restaurant proprietors on the ground floor of the building, which was discovered to be on fire. When the firemen broke in they found three separate blazes burning with grease smeared on the woodwork. The scores of sleeping tenants in the building were hustled out safely.

San Francisco, Nov. 26.—Colonel M. H. Whitney, aide to General Miles, is in this city inspecting the presidio military reservation. Lieutenant Bennett and 492 recruits from Columbus, Ohio, barracks have arrived in San Francisco. The Fifteenth cavalry is scheduled to sail for Manila Dec. 5.

DETROIT HAS A HORROR

Factory Boiler Blows Up Snuffing Out Lives of Many Men.

CAUSE OF CATASTROPHE NOT KNOWN.

Whole Building Was Wrecked by the Explosion and Large Number of Employees on Upper Floors Were Seriously Injured.

Detroit, Nov. 26.—The boiler in the factory of the Penberthy Injector company, Seventh and Abbott streets, exploded Tuesday morning with such terrific force that it demolished the entire three-story brick building in which it was located. Inside this structure about 150 employees were at work. More than half of these were more or less seriously injured and at least 17 were killed. The rear of mechanical building was 54 by 100 feet in size. It was separated from the larger structure adjoining it by a 16-foot alley. The mechanical building was instantly destroyed and a portion of the wall of the other was blown in. No one in the latter building was seriously hurt except one girl.

The only men on the first floor, which was largely utilized as a store-room were the engineers, firemen and some workmen who were making alterations. All of these were either killed or badly maimed. On the second floor were 75 finishers; on the third were 75 brass molders. There were 38 injured taken to hospitals and 11 dead bodies recovered from the debris. Samuel Riley, the engineer, was taken from the ruins an hour after the explosion. He had been pinned under a heavy beam. His face was cooked by the flames and he was badly injured. He was, however, still alive, but unable to give any light on the cause of the disaster.

The usual scenes of weeping relatives of employed struggling to get close to the central point in the disaster were enacted and for hours strings of ambulances were busy carrying away victims.

O. M. Johnson, president of the company, says he apprehends that the cause of the explosion will never be exactly known.

President Johnson said there were two small testing boilers in the plant, also one 100 horse power upright and one 100 horse power tubular, and that he was satisfied it was the latter which exploded. "The boilers were tested regularly and it was only a week ago that the boiler tester complimented us on our careful engineer," said Mr. Johnson.

The property loss amounts to $150,000; insurance $70,000.

The first words of Engineer Samuel Riley at Grace hospital were: "How did it happen? Everything was all right with the boiler and the engine as far as I knew."

Timely Rescue at a Fire.

St. Louis, Nov. 26.—Lutty's Brothers' wholesale and retail grocery was burned, the loss being $75,000. Four young women employees were rescued from the fourth story by firemen, who carried them out in an insensible condition. Mike Doran, fireman of one of the fire companies, was overcome by smoke and nearly suffocated.

Fire in Shaker Settlement.

Concord, N. H., Nov. 26.—Word was received here that the buildings of the Shaker Community at East Canaan, 12 miles from here, were on fire and that all the property of the community was threatened. The fire was brought under control; loss $10,000.

Shaffer Heard From.

Pittsburg, Nov. 26.—President Shaffer of the Amalgamated association emphatically denies the report from Wheeling that association lodges in that district are to vote on an emergency assessment for the creation of a gigantic strike fund by the time the agreement with the United States Steel corporation expires, eight months hence. He says that about six or eight weeks ago, he authorized the levying of an assessment of 10 per cent, but this was to make up a fund having for its purpose caring for men who since the great steel strike have been unable to secure employment. Furthermore, President Shaffer said the unions were without authority to vote on assessments, that authority being vested entirely in the officers of the Amalgamated.

Nation Divorce Suit.

Medicine Lodge, Kan., Nov. 26.—The divorce suit brought by David Nation against his wife, Carrie Nation, the saloon smasher, was begun here. Mr. Nation claims his wife took away his featherbed, drew $900 from the bank and refused to live with him.

Schoolboy Hero.

Cleveland, Nov. 26.—Fire broke out at the Scranton school causing a panic among pupils. Will Milburn, 16, was the last to leave the building and rescued a little crippled girl, Dollie Peters, who had been left behind.

KENTUCKY'S ONLY TOBACCO AND CORN FAIR.

The Maysville Board of Trade has made a success of two tobacco fairs, and it is determined that the third one shall be a greater success than either of the preceding ones. To this end the board asks every citizen of Maysville and Mason County, and in fact of the State of Kentucky and Ohio, to join heartily, in order that this may be accomplished. We must realize that the tobacco crop of Kentucky and some sections of Ohio will bring more money this year into the hands of the farmers than any other crop which they have produced.

We are gratified to know that the efforts which the board has put forth in the tobacco fairs which we have had before have resulted in establishing a tobacco factory in Maysville. One tobacco factory, however, is only a drop in the bucket when we think of the great advantages we have for the purpose of manufacturing tobacco. We are in the midst of a country where the raw material is produced and where labor is plentiful and living is cheap. We don't doubt that the board will be instrumental in securing another factory for our city before another twelve months have elapsed. To this end let us lay aside all the old foggy ideas that have kept us from uniting our efforts along the progressive lines which we should now adopt. The time has passed for persons of non-progressive ideas to retard our onward march. If we have anything to do, let us do it with our might, especially when we are engaged in a good cause. Let us unite our efforts for the purpose of bringing to Maysville industries which will give employment to our people and build us up in wealth and prosperity.

The date of the tobacco fair has not yet been determined, but it will be some time during the month of January or February, and the board requests that the farmers get ready their samples of all grades of tobacco. The sample must consist of twelve hands, and in the competition for the premiums for the best corn the samples must consist of thirty ears.

JUDGE COCHRAN.

His Speech at the Banquet Recently Tendered Him at Cincinnati.

A Valuable Contribution to the Legal Literature of the State.

[Lexington Herald.]

The lawyers of the Covington and Newport bars gave to Judge Cochran on October 26th a banquet at the Grand Hotel in Cincinnati. * * * At the close of the banquet the honored guest was called upon to make a response to the kindly utterances made by his brethren of the bar. We had the pleasure to be present at the banquet and hearing the response; and we were so much impressed with its elevating tone; its dignity of thought, its simple elegance of diction that after returning home we wrote to Judge Cochran, asking him to reduce the response in writing and permit us to make it public, and this request he has kindly granted; and it is with sincere pleasure that we give to our readers the pleasure of reading this speech. We need not call attention to it; for it will draw the attention of every thoughtful reader of The Herald. It is a valuable contribution to the legal literature of the State. We know of no response made by any guest at any banquet more appropriate or more elevating in tone than this. Those who know Judge Cochran know that it reflects his mind, is a truthful expression of his purposes and is a fair prophecy of his judicial career:

Mr. Toastmaster and Gentlemen: At the outset of what I have to say I desire to return thanks. Those who have spoken here to-night have said many kind things about me. I want to thank them for this. I desire further to thank those to whom we are indebted for conceiving and providing this splendid entertainment, and those, also, who have graced it with their presence and enlivened it with their brilliant remarks. But, above all, I must avail myself of this opportunity, the first I have had, of thanking in mass those who, by what they said and what they did in my behalf, were so instrumental in enabling me to secure the high position which I now hold.

On the 29th of June last, for the first and only time in my life, I met President McKinley at the White House in Washington, where I had called to pay my respects and express my deep sense of obligation to him for his consideration. I hope I violate no confidence in quoting him as saying on that occasion that the political influences in Kentucky were largely against me, but I was fortunate in that I happened to have the President on my side. That attitude on his part towards me and my consequent success was due largely to the representations which had been made to him concerning me by the members of the bar and bench in Kentucky, in this city, along the southern border of Ohio and elsewhere, and to the kind offices of a few personal friends who did have political influence. For all that was thus said and done, I now tender my sincerest thanks.

This is the agreeable side of those representations. They have another and quite distinct aspect—one that you may never have thought of, but one which has given me no slight concern. Indeed, it is a very serious view of them to me. They have set a pace with which I will be expected to keep up. They have erected a standard to which I must in some degree conform and by which I will be judged. Notwithstanding this, I have determined not to be disheartened, but to view these representations as an incentive to the very highest endeavor, and I hope that out of a conscious weakness and inability to square performance with them will come strength to endure and power to in some measure meet expectations. In view of the very flattering character of what has been then and here said concerning me, and the high and noble sentiments that have been expressed in all the responses to the toasts proposed on this occasion, I feel that something equally elevated will be expected from me in what I may say in answer to your hearty call. Pardon me, therefore, whilst I unobscure myself, as it were, to you and reveal my heart-searchings and aspirations in connection with the work upon which I have entered. You, no doubt, will consider them as quite exalted, and it may be that in presenting them to you the impression may be created that the purpose in so doing may be to increase your esteem of the speaker. If such a thought should creep into the minds of any of you, please look upon their intended relation to him as solely that of "self description and not self eulogy." And a word or two in justification of such a course. It certainly is not improper for one to put a high valuation upon those things within his breast of which he is really conscious and which are entitled to such valuation. Aristotle has characterized the man who is worthy and knows himself to be such as a magnanimous man. There is such a thing as magnanimity towards oneself. Paul cautioned every man amongst those to whom he addressed his letter to the Romans "not to think of himself more highly than he ought to think," which certainly implies that he should think of himself as highly as he ought. And Swinburne, somewhere speaks of "an excellent arrogance." Besides, no one can know one's self as well as he himself does and others will never judge him beyond his own measure. The spies, who brought the discouraging report from the promised land, had this to say concerning the giants whom they had seen there:

"And we were in our own sight as grasshoppers, and so we were in their sight."

The giants judged them as they judged themselves.

And please bear in mind that what is said has relation solely to aspirations believed to be real after much heart-searching—addressed to those whose kind words and deeds lead me to open my heart to them—and not to performance. In the first place, I would direct your attention to the view of the work upon which I have entered, which I would always have in mind. The function of those moral heroes of the Hebrew race, the prophets, was two-fold—to predict future events and to speak the truth as revealed to them by God. In modern times emphasis is put upon the latter function; in earlier days it was placed upon the former. This two-fold function has been expressed in this way: "They were foretellers and forthtellers."

Now the work of a lawyer is largely that of a prophet in the sense of uninspired foretelling of future events. This has been forcibly brought out by Prof. Holmes, now Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Massachusetts, in an article on "The Path of the Law," in the Harvard Law Review. His thought and the phraseology in which he has expressed it is largely this. In societies like ours the command of the public force is intrusted to judges in certain cases, and the whole power of the State will be put forth, if necessary, to carry out their judgment and decrees. The law, as contained in the sibilant leaves of reports, text books and statutes is prediction—prediction of the incidence of the public force through the instrumentality of the courts. They are prophecies of the past of the cases in which the axe will fall. Indeed, the primary rights and duties with which jurisprudence busies itself are nothing but prophecies. A legal duty is nothing but a prediction that if a man does, or omits certain things, he will be made to suffer in this or that way by judgment

The top corset line should never show through the dress, if it does the corsets do not fit. There is no $1 corset made that equals the "P. N." It fits better and wears longer than any other. We have it in four styles so that every figure can be suited. If you are interested in 50c. corsets we have the best we've ever handled in our fifty years experience. If you want a higher grade than the $1 "P. N." we have it in our $1.50 quality—this corset is built especially for stout figures.

Do You Invest Your Small Savings?

If you are able to lay aside only fifty cents to $5 a week do you not find that it is either impossible to invest these small amounts, or that the rate of interest earned is so small as to be almost insignificant? Through the system of co-operation and compound interest

Validity of Ordinance Taxing Peddlers Upheld.

In affirming a case taken up from Mt. Sterling, the Court of Appeals decided:

First—A city ordinance imposing a license tax on "peddlers or itinerate retailers of goods" is not in violation of the Federal Constitution or of the interstate commerce law.

Second—Under Ky. Stat., Sec. 3490, Sub-sec. 12 a city of the fourth class has authority to pass such an ordinance.

Third—Such an ordinance applies to the residents of the city, as well as to non-residents, and is therefore not void as discriminating against non-residents of the city.

Told by Pain

If you have pains you should look after them quickly. Pain shows something is wrong. The sharper the pain the more danger there is in delay. There are thousands of women to-day who are bearing awful pain almost continually, rather than tell a physician about the shooting pains in their lower abdomen, about the agony of falling of the womb and the distress of leucorrhoea. They let the months pass and their trouble becomes harder to cure and more distressing. But modest women can secure exemption from the embarrassment of a private examination. When pain tells them of danger they can cure themselves by the use of in the privacy of their homes. You can be cured without distressing publicity. With these facts before you there is no reason for the delay which is increasing your misery and wasting the days of your life. Why not stop the pain today?

Belen, Miss., March 9, 1900.
I have used one bottle of Wine of Cardui and one package of Theford's Black-Draught. Before I began to take your medicines I had pains in my back, hips, lower bowels and my arms. Sometimes I thought I would go blind. My head ached and I was so weak I could hardly walk across the floor. Now I can only feel a little of the pain in my side and I am going to use your medicines until I get cured, for I believe they will certainly cure me. I have been married twelve years and am the mother of seven children. I thank you for your wonderful medicine and what it has done for me. MATILDA SMITH.
